Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

According to Greek legend, the great hero Ulysses returned to his island home after his days of warfare and wanderlust. No sooner had he settled down than he became restless again. So in his age, he persuaded a loyal band of his followers to accompany his on yet another voyage of exploration. "Ulysses," a poem by England's poet laureate, Alfred, Lord Tennyson, recalls Ulysses' challenge to his fellows:

> Come, my friends,
> 'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.
> Push off, and sitting well in order smite
> The sounding furrows; for my purpose holds
> To sail beyond the sunset, and the baths
> Of all the western stars, until I die.
> It may be that the gulfs will wash us down;
> And see the great Achilles, whom we knew.
> Though much is taken, much abides; and though
> We are not now that strength which in old days
> Moved earth and heaven, that which we are, we are--
> One equal temper of heroic hearts,
> Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
> To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.

In the spirit of "Ulysses", the members of South Dakota's Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) set forth each day to share unselfishly with others the accumulation of lifetimes of wisdom and understanding.

In recognition thereof, I, William J. Janklow, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby publicly proclaim Wednesday, September 23, 1981, as

RSVP DAY

In South Dakota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Fourteenth Day of July, In the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-One
